

The Norfolk Independent Advisory Group would like to invite members of the public along to a virtual Annual General Meeting.

The Norfolk Independent Advisory Group (IAG) is a group of local residents from different community backgrounds who work alongside the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner for Norfolk (OPCCN) and Norfolk Constabulary. The group offers opinions and advice and shares their community-based perspectives with the aim of improving the quality of policing services for everyone.

The IAG has a key role to play in helping to increase the public's trust and confidence in the police, particularly amongst minority communities. Its members help with monitoring the quality of service Norfolk Constabulary provides to the diverse communities of Norfolk with particular emphasis on hate crime, critical/major incidents, policies and procedures, and Stop and Search.

Voluntary members of the IAG meet monthly in the evening, typically at Police HQ in Wymondham and are supported by staff from the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner (OPCCN). These meetings are currently held virtually due to the ongoing pandemic.

On Tuesday 1st December 2020, IAG will be holding their Annual General Meeting (AGM) virtually and would like to invite members from the various different communities across Norfolk to attend the meeting.

IAG members want to continue to provide community-based perspectives to Norfolk Constabulary and the Norfolk PCC, so would like to use the AGM as a platform for community groups to come along to share opinions, concerns or ask questions.

IAG want to ensure that all community group in Norfolk have a platform to have their say and hope that from welcoming those community members to the AGM, a continuous communication link can be established and help with shaping future advise and quality assurance provided to Norfolk Constabulary.

If you would like to find out more information about IAG and the AGM or register to receive a link to attend the event then please email: fay.crangle@norfolk.police.uk
